

Bright Futures with Languages

31st January 2020

A group of KS4 MFL students attended Godolphin School in Salisbury and listened to speakers from a diverse range of career area.

The evening was to inspire students, and broaden students understanding of the range of careers open to language graduates.

During the evening students were welcomed by Astrid Forsyth from Bath University, followed by previous languages students. The panel was formed by:

- Jenny Beard, Senior Consultant at EY. Jenny read Spanish and Management at UCL
- Eleanor Frere, Account manager at Firefly PR and Communications. Ele read French and German at St Andrew's University
- Amelia Talfourd-Cook, Trainee Solicitor with Stevens & Bolton LLP. Amelia read Classics at Oxford University
- Sophie Kippen, Fast Track Civil Service. Sophie read French, Latin and Greek at Exeter University

Students left the event sparked up with curiosity and thinking on how to improve their current grades at school so they can reach all their potentials.
